NEWS FROM HAVANA.

Smallpox Has Broken Out Among Spanish Troops.

CUBANS DREAD THIS DISEASE.

It May Cut an Important Factor in the Present Rebellion—The Spaniards Get the Worst of Another Battle—Tampa, Fla., in Sympathy With the Cuban Insurgents—Latest War News.

TAMPA, Fla., April 3.—Reports from Havana state that smallpox has broken out among the Spanish troops in that city. The Cubans dread this disease as much as the Spaniards.

Salvador Cisneros, known as the Marquis of Santa Lucia, is said to be in command of 600 men.

It is stated by Cubans arriving here that when Maeceo captured the convoy there were 100 Spaniards killed and 170 wounded, against 80 Cubans killed and wounded.

Antonio Lopez Coloma, the leader of the band of insurgents which went out from Matanzas, and who was afterward captured with Dona Amparo Orbe, his affianced bride, in man's attire, were both to be tried today at Matanzas. They are now confined at Sarsenevino. He will probably be banished to Africa and she released.

Jose Villor Guanaberto Gomez and Pedro Acevedo, now in Mora Castle, at Havana, were also to be court-martialed today.

The landing of Maeceo is confirmed.

The Cubans held a meeting here last night at which they called a celebration on the 10th inst. to commemorate the anniversary of the revolutionary party, and also in honor of the organization of the first Cuban congress in 1868, at Guinara. The town was decorated with Cuban flags.

STEAMER FROM CUBA.

Passengers Detail the Latest Events in the Cuban Revolution.

PORT TAMPA, Fla., April 3.—The Olivete arrived from Cuba last night with very few passengers. W. K. Hyer, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Pensacola, with his wife, was among them. He reports that between the 4th and 20th of April 10,000 more troops are expected from Spain. He says that business is generally suppressed in Havana, and that the merchants acknowledge the fact openly.

Another passenger stated that the steamship Concha, from Galveston to New York, was met in the gulf by a schooner with probably 1,000 men aboard. It was thought the schooner was expecting to meet a steamer for some purpose unknown, but upon discovery of the mistake nearly all went below and sail was made quickly to avoid the steamer. It is thought that there was an expedition aboard that expected to be supplied with arms. It is reported that Colonel Aroz, with 30 aides, was captured by the insurgents about four days ago, near Manzanilla, while they were at dinner.

EXTEND OF THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.

MADRID, April 3.—The governor of Havana telegraphs that tranquility prevails in five of the provinces of the island of Cuba. The insurrection is confined to the province of Santiago, where the rebels have retired to the mountains and are awaiting reinforcements.

BURIED UNDER ROCKS.

Disastrous Explosion in a Mine Near Prescott, Arizona.

PRESCOTT, April 3.—One hundred pounds of gunpowder exploded in the Ohio mine of the Mescal Mining and Milling company, late yesterday afternoon. The mine is located nine miles from Prescott, and the particulars are very meager as the courier left immediately after the explosion occurred to secure medical aid for the five men who were working in the drift where the powder was stored.

Three men had been rescued seriously injured. James Newlin, the foreman of the mine, being the most seriously. The explosion caused a cave of 100 or more tons of rock, and whether the other two men were killed and buried beneath the debris or in the drift behind the cave-in of the rock could not be determined when the messenger left. The miners set to work immediately to remove the rock from the drift to reach the imprisoned or buried men.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 3.—William Rawles, colored, was found guilty yesterday by a coroner's jury of the murder of Mr. Kaul, a small shopkeeper, last Wednesday. The prisoner was guarded while awaiting the train for Gainesville, where the regular trial should have taken place. A mob soon gathered, overpowered the guards, and lynched Rawles. The presumption is that Rawles murdered Kaul for a small amount of money that the latter was carrying home after the day's business.

KILLED TWO BROTHERS.

GALENA, Kan., April 3.—Newton Walter, aged 19, killed two brothers, George and James Cox, while duck hunting yesterday. He then attempted to violate the person of Miss Dollie Cox, who was alone at home. The girl gave the alarm and Walters fled. One of the Cox boys was found in the woods with a bullet hole in his head. The other is supposed to have been thrown into the river.

WINDSHIELD ADVANCED.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 3.—Indiana window glass manufacturers met here yesterday and advanced prices 5 per cent. to take effect immediately.

HOW WAR WAS AVERTED. Terms of Agreement Between Mexico and Guatemala.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—From unofficial advices reaching Washington, the general terms of the agreements signed Monday, by which the war between Mexico and Guatemala was averted, are substantially known. Mexico's demands were in the form of an ultimatum sent by Secretary Mariscal on Nov. 27, embracing the following points:

First—Mexico asks satisfaction for injuries received by the invasion of her territory and for the vexations of which foreigners and Mexicans cutting wood in the forests of Agua Azul, Egypto, San Nicholas and San Pedro and the Mexican residents of Ayutla have been the object.

Second—Mexico also demands a pecuniary indemnity for the damages sustained.

Third—Mexico also demands indemnity for the expenses of the mobilization of her forces and of situating authorities and employees in suitable places for public security on the frontier.

Fourth—Mexico asks that the labors of the boundary commission, in accordance with the treaty of 1882, be speedily concluded, said treaty not being open to discussion.

It is understood that $2,000,000 was the amount of the indemnity demanded by Mexico. Also that she insisted on Guatemala dismissing her surveyor general, who had taken part in locating the boundary line.

On Jan. 12 Guatemala answered the ultimatum. It was pacific in tone, but did not concede Mexico's right to the territory designated in the ultimatum, nor to the right of a fixed cash indemnity.

The final negotiations are a compromise between the ultimatum and reply. It is believed that Mexico has agreed to arbitrate the amount of cash indemnity, instead of exacting the $2,000,000 first claimed.

Senor Romero, the Mexican minister, has been kept advised of the negotiations, but neither he nor Senor Arriaga, the Guatemalan minister, are yet in a position to make public the exact terms on which war was averted. President Díaz has announced that the terms would be communicated to congress later.

The peace agreement is regarded as of far-reaching importance to the Central American states, which has expected for the last six months to be plunged into a bloody struggle. The Mexican army and navy have been preparing for the conflict, and calculations have been made as to where the troops would be landed in Guatemala.

The Mexican army numbers 34,833 on a peace footing, with 165,000 available on a war footing. The Guatemalan army numbers 3,000 on a peace footing. The agreement now effected puts an end to the active war preparations.

RESULT OF A CONFESSION.

Half a Dozen Murderers and Robbers Locked Up in Jail.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 3.—Six members of the worst gang of murderers and robbers ever known in Alabama are in jail here as the result of the confession of Lee Harris, who is charged with murdering Pleasant Merriweather, a suburban grocer, with hatchet, and robbing his store a few nights ago. Jim Webb, one of the gang, was fatally shot while resisting arrest.

According to Harris' confession, he and his pals are responsible for the murder and robbery of James S. Thornton, a Birmingham grocer, in December, the murder of E. Y. Daniel's, an Eastside farmer, and attempted murder of his wife and daughter last December, the murder of William Barnes, a North Birmingham distiller, because he refused to give them whisky, the hold-up and robbery of two white women at Thomas, and numerous minor crimes.

A quantity of stolen property was located by Harris and recovered. Henry Kimberly is now in the penitentiary for some of the crimes confessed by Harris.

GOING BACK TO HAWAII.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—William B. Cornwall, the royalist sympathizer who came to this country from Honolulu just before the recent revolution and who has been accused of giving secret aid to the rebels, sailed for Honolulu on the steamer Australia yesterday. He says he has been warned that the Hawaiian authorities will not permit him to land there, but that he intends to make the attempt. If they refuse him the privilege he will return here and consult his attorneys.

NO USE FOR TRAIN ROBBERS IN MISSOURI.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 3.—Governor Stone has approved a house bill under which train robbing is made a capital offense should the jury decide to inflict so serious a punishment. The penalty ranges from hanging to imprisonment in the penitentiary.

DOZEN BUSINESS HOUSES BURNED.

ST. CHARLES, Ills., April 3.—Fire at this place did damage to the extent of $75,000, burning number of buildings. A strong wind was blowing. About a dozen business houses were burned, including Bowman, Warner & Stewart's bank and Odd Fellows' hall.

HAVE VOTED A HUNDRED TIMES.

DOVER, Del., April 3.—The century mark was reached yesterday in balloting for a successor to ex-United States Senator Higgins. The 100th ballot resulted as follows: Higgins, 9; Addicks, 4; Massey, 3; Ridgley, 9; Pennewill, 1; Tunnell, 1.

OPEN AND ABOVE BOARD.

PEORIA, Ills., April 3.—President Greenhut of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company says that he considers Nelson Morris' cattle feeding contract perfectly valid, and that everything about it is open and above board.

COTTON CARGOES LOST.

Very Destructive Fires on Shipboard the Past Season.

FROM OCTOBER 23 TO MARCH 23.

This Record Shows That Forty-Five Conflagrations Have Taken Place as Contrasted With Only Eight of Any Note in the Previous Season. Details of the Disasters.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Marine Journal has compiled a record of fires in American cotton on shipboard during the season just closed, which extends from Oct. 23 last to March 23. This record shows that 45 conflagrations have taken place as contrasted with only eight of any note in the previous season.

The Journal says: It is impossible to estimate the actual loss that has occurred through these fires on board ships. In only a limited number of cases has the statement of loss been even approximated in the reports available for compilation. Not only the actual damage to cargoes on vessels, by fire and water, must be included in making up an aggregate statement of such loss, however, but also the delay and detention of the ship, etc. It is probable, therefore, that this season's losses through fires in cargoes of American cotton will largely exceed $1,000,000.

By contrast with Egyptian and Indian cotton this loss is beyond all comparison, for such a thing as fire in Egyptian or Indian cotton cargoes is practically unknown. The reason ascribed by all experts for this state of affairs is because the American cotton is loosely baled and carelessly covered and handled, whereas the cotton of the other countries referred to is baled so tightly that it becomes practically as impervious to combustion as a log of wood.

It is pointed out, however, that a number of the fires referred to were of incendiary origin. The principal fires were: Steamer Castlegarth, Skidby, Baltimore City, Armenia, Petunia, County Down, Whitehead, Dulegirth and Seag, all loading at Savannah, Ga., on Feb. 5, had cargoes damaged by fires of undoubted incendiary origin. Combined loss, about $50,000.

Steamer Rajeeen, while loading at New Orleans Nov. 10, for Havre, had part of her cargo damaged by fire, and the vessel slightly damaged, but proceeded, and had to put into Key West, Nov. 17, with cargo again on fire.

Steamer Alamo, at New York, Nov. 22, from Galveston, had cargo damaged $10,000 by fire.

Steamer Colonia, at Havre, Nov. 26, from New Orleans, had fire in cargo from the seventh day out, and for 13 days of the passage, 850 bales of cotton damaged.

Steamer Avona, loading at Galveston, Dec. 31, for Liverpool, had 2,000 bales of cotton destroyed by fire and 1,000 bales damaged; loss, about $40,000.

Steamer Masonic, loading at Galveston, Dec. 29, for Liverpool, had cargo damaged $45,000 by fire.

Steamer Lammermoor, loading at Charleston, for Bremen, had 2,500 bales of cotton damaged by fire and water Jan. 4.

Steamer Mariposa, at Liverpool, Jan. 9, from New Orleans, had 1,800 bales of cotton and considerable wheat damaged by fire and water.

Steamer Jessie, at Liverpool, Jan. 20, from Mobile, had 700 bales damaged by fire, 1,100 badly damaged by water and 1,250 slightly damaged by steam.

Steamer Embriicos, at Bremen, Jan. 29, from Galveston, had fire in cargo four days before arrival, and 1,500 bales of cotton were damaged.

Steamer Thuric, at Liverpool, Feb. 2, from New York, had 500 bales cotton and other cargo badly damaged by fire caused by an electric wire.

ECHOES OF THE MURDER OF THE TWO CHILDREN IN COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—Mrs. W. H. Williams, who murdered two of her children at the Park hotel Monday, was arraigned in police court yesterday afternoon on two charges of murder in the first degree. The accused waived examination and was ordered held without bond to await the action of the grand jury. She was at once taken to the county jail.

Mr. Williams, who was under arrest, was released by order of the coroner and the little daughter, Annie, was placed in the care of Mrs. John C. Lester, a friend of the family, to whose home Mrs. Williams went after committing the crime.

Mrs. Williams seems to have entertained the most bitter enmity toward her husband, and says the only reason she can give for murdering her children is that she did not want them to sit at the hands of their father as she had suffered.

SINGULAR PHENOMENON.

HOW A MURDER WAS REVEALED AND TWO MEN CONVICTED OF THE CRIME.

SANTA FE, April 3.—Jesus Vilpando and Feliciano Chavez have been found guilty of murder in the first degree. On Jan. 20 they were caught by Thomas Martinez in the act of stealing and killing his father's cattle in South Santa Fe county. They invited Martinez into a corral, where they shot him, placed the body across a fire and burned it, nothing remaining but a few bones and one foot encased in a rubber shoe.

During the trial a young man named Angel, in his testimony, said that he saw distinctly the outlines of the murdered man's form lying in the ashes. The form seemed impalable, but perfectly distinct and in bold relief. When cross-questioned the young man could not be shaken in his description of this singular phenomenon. His testimony was most dramatic and caused a profound sensation of awe and wonder.

CASH AND GOLD RESERVE.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Yesterday's statement of the condition of the treasury shows: Available cash balance, $136,594,109; gold reserve, $80,570,211.

WILLIAM ZEIGLER DEAD.

Drowned From His Yacht While on a Cruise Off Florida.

BROOKLYN, April 3.—A report has just reached here that William Zeigler, well known throughout this country, had been drowned from his yacht "Robinson Crusoe," while on a cruise off Florida. Mr. Zeigler, in company with William H. Flagler of Standard oil fame, left for Florida on March 16, last. Judge Gaynor of this city had been invited to make one of the party, but owing to his having to appear before the Friday investigating committee, he was unable to go.

The particulars received here in regard to the reported accident were very meager, and efforts made to confirm the report, both in this city and in New York, where Mr. Zeigler has resided for some time, were without avail. The report, however, was generally credited.

William Zeigler was born at Massatine, Ia., about 52 years ago. He organized the Royal Baking Powder company with a capital of $60,000. Some years later a dispute arose among the partners in regard to his interest in the concern. The case was taken to the courts, and Zeigler was sustained in his contention as to his share. He afterward sold his share to the other members of the company for $4,000,000. He invested largely in real estate in this city, and later organized the Cream Powder company of New Jersey, and also the Price Baking Powder company of Chicago.

For a time he was largely interested in politics in this city, and in 1891 he was nominated as the Republican candidate for mayor of Brooklyn. He refused, however, to accept the nomination and Henry A. Myer was substituted, he being defeated by David A. Boddy. Shortly before that time a scheme had been floated whereby it was intended to dispose of the Long Island water supply system to the city of Brooklyn for $1,250,000. The present Judge Gaynor at once placed himself in opposition to this and induced Zeigler to act as the principal in bringing the matter to an investigation. They were successful in this fight and the system was finally disposed of for $430,000.

Mr. Zeigler was an owner in the Brooklyn Eagle, holding a considerable amount of stock in that paper. He was a widower and had no children.

It was stated here last night that John J. Wells, who had lived for many years at the Mansion House, Brooklyn, had also accompanied Mr. Zeigler and Mr. Flagler on their trip to Florida.

AN EDITOR'S WORK ENDED.

DAVID M. STONE DIES AT HIS BROOKLYN HOME.

NEW YORK, April 3.—David M. Stone, who, for 44 years was editor of the New York Journal of Commerce, died last night at his home in Brooklyn. His death resulted from a complication of heart troubles, after an illness of about a month.

David Marvin Stone was born in Oxford, Conn., Dec. 23, 1817. In December, 1849, he became commercial editor of the New York Journal of Commerce, and in 1861 he succeeded William B. Prime as editor-in-chief, which position he held until a year or two ago, when he retired. He was president of the New York Associated Press for 25 years. In his younger days he wrote for magazines. Several of his published works have passed through a number of editions.

Mr. Stone's opinions on commercial and other matters in his famous "Answers to Correspondents" were regarded as an authority by merchants throughout the country, and it was chiefly through these that he gained a worldwide reputation.

GET TOGETHER, BOYS.

We May Be Happy Yet—Local Base Ball Prospects Are Brightening.

Base ball prospects are brightening considerably and Maysville lovers of the National sport may not be left out in the cold this season after all.

A first-class team and a No. 1 park are now among the probabilities.

The managers of last year's team have had their eyes on what is known as the Barbour & Coebran lot in the Sixth ward a long time, and they early made a proposition to the electric railway company to lease the lot and organize a first team if the company would fit up the park.

The proposition is satisfactory to the company, but the trouble all along has been to get the consent of one of the owners of the lot.

A satisfactory settlement of the matter may be reached in a few days, however, and if the negotiations are closed the work of fitting up the grounds will be commenced at once.

If a team is organized, it may include Deisel, Heilman and McKeough, three first-class players from Cincinnati. Deisel and Heilman were seen in several games here last season.

A good park and a first-class team will bring many a dollar here and keep a good deal of cash at home this season that will go elsewhere, if no local games are had. "Get together."

COUNTY CULLINGS.

GERMANTOWN.

W. L. Woodward and wife, of Kennard, spent several days with her parents.

Mrs. Sally Mannen and daughter, Mary, are spending the week with Mrs. Amos Turney at Paris.

Elder Mills, of Brooksville, filled the appointment made for him at the Christian Church on Sunday.

John Erlon, of Paris, is visiting his father, Mrs. Mary Dimmitt, his niece, will accompany him home.

The meeting of the James Lane Allee Society at the home of the writer on Friday night last was highly appreciated and enjoyed by us and other spectators. The reading of Bryant's "Thanatopsis" by Prof. Curry was well executed, the paper by J. R. Homlong was in his usual forcible style the essay by J. R. Walton on the realistic in novel writing, and the valedictory by Mrs. Curry were papers of decided merit. The delightful music rendered by W. A. Pepper and wife, Miss Daisy Pollock and Miss Tessie Gallagher added much to the enjoyment of the evening. We hope "when the autumn winds are blowing" they will meet with us again.

The poem composed for the occasion and read by its author has been kindly presented to your correspondent and we send you a copy for insertion. The author, Miss Ida Mayhew, whose home is in our county, has taught the primary department of our school for two terms and is a gifted young lady, who has endeared herself not only to the patrons of the school, but by her general and social manners and lady-like deportment gained a warm place in the affections of our people. Following is the poem:

FAREWELL TO J. L. A.

When the autumn winds were blowing
Soft and low across the hills,
And her tender sunshine drifting
Golden light through the tall pines,
Gilding all their bloom with beauty,
Aster fair, and golden rod,
Sinking in October splendor,
When the "day had gone to God."

When the moon, a slender crescent,
Creed o'er the western hill,
Through the purple mist that blended
With the twilight pale and chill,
And the stars so calm and holy,
Silvered all the vaulted way,
Then we clustered 'round the fire-side,
Once more a band of J. L. A.

Glad, we were, though few in number:
Glad to meet with friends once more,
Wandering with them through the mazes
Of the bard's most precious lore,
Seeking with them for the treasures,
Better far, than gold or gems,
That lie hidden in a storehouse
Of a great mind's wonder-realms.

Then we chose a master-piece,
That we might explore its thoughts:
Gain and garner up the wisdom
From the mine of genius wrought,
Learn to know that human nature,
In the ages past and old,
Never yet hath failed to mingle,
Dross forever, with its gold.

When the flaming sword of Michael
Swung above fair Edens gate,
Driving forth with fiery vengeance
Man and woman to their fate;
Bearing with them in their ride,
All their heritage of woe;
Ever since the golden apple
Still hath tempted man below.

And we know that present ages,
Through the cycles of each year,
Bring forth the good and evil,
Pains and passions of "Lear,"
Fillet love, unfilial hatred,
Dark deceptions, loyal faith,
All are blunt and cross each other
On life's worn and checkered path.

Man is frail, the world is human,
And must evil stalk abroad
Ever, while the green earth swings
In the gracious smile of God;
It is athwart the gloom of stormy-clond,
Streams one soft and tender ray,
And a Saviour's gracious pardon
Paves with light the shining way.

That shall lead man up to Heaven,
Link his future to the skies,
Guide him on through mists of evil,—
Saved by one great sacrifice.
Now we rest upon the borders
Of a season past and gone:
Crowned by Frost King's sparkling jewels
Metting in a vernal sun,—

Fading as the days have faded,
Lost within the misty past;
Gilding with their freight of memories
Through his aisles so dim and vast,
But we seek not to recall them.—
God will bless the good that's done;
Let us pray, that all their evil
Melt in frost before the sun,

Vanish as the snow-wreath's fading,
'Neath the south-wind's breath of balm:
By His mercy all forgiven,
Resting in eternal calm,
Soon his spring will dawn upon us
Under rainy April skies;
Rose clouds and sunrise tender,
Of the May-day's glad surprise.

We are gathered here this evening,
Just to say a kind word,
With which we meet in future,
Only God himself, may tell,
For we walk down the valley,
Which death's shadow darkly paves,
And the snows another New Year,
White, may drift above our graves,

Nevermore, a band unbroken,
Shall we meet on earth again,
Where life's partings and its changes
Lie beyond all human ken,
Young and wise, young and untaught,
Lift their hearts in purple air,
To our souls the future beckons,
And, we answer with a prayer.

IRON QUEEN BURNED.

The Elegant Cincinnati and Pittsburg Packet Destroyed This Morning—River News.

The steamer Iron Queen burned this morning above Gullipolis. No lives were lost.

The above is the only information received here of the disaster. The Queen was built two years ago, and was the finest and most elegant boat in the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade. She passed Maysville Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock.

Falling slowly here and at all points above.

The Ruth and Keystone State down this evening and Telegraph to-night.

The St. Lawrence for Pomeroy and Stanley for Kanawha will pass up to-night.

The steamer Reliance has laid up for repairs, at Augusta. The M. P. Wells has taken her place in Rome-Portsmouth trade.

The C. & O.'s new ferryboat for Ironton-Russell service will be called the Ironton. The boat will be completed at Leavena.

On the last trip of the Keystone State the boat hung up at Catlettsburg for four hours loading poultry and eggs for Pittsburgh. The whole hurricane deck was piled three feet high with the coops, and the shipment is the largest that has been made from that section in years.

Pittsburg marine underwriters have announced that they will allow a less rate on coal risks if Pittsburg pilots are employed below Louisville, had a taking up of statistics has been made to show that in late years the preponderance of loss on the lower river has been where Pittsburg pilots were in charge. Of this season's heavy losses, but ten of the sixty-five missing coal boats were sunk by Louisville pilots.

TWO PIONEERS GONE.

Death Claimed Mr. Augustine Owens and Mr. J. H. Meenach Tuesday.

The venerable Mr. Augustine C. Owens died Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter Mrs. John S. Lee, near Rectorville.

Mr. Owens was born near Lewisburg, and was in the ninety-fourth year of his age. Most of his long life was spent in Mason and Lewis counties. Two years ago, however, he moved to Lane, Kan., with his youngest daughter Mrs. J. Win Parker, and remained there until about the middle of March when he returned to his old Kentucky home. Ten days ago was stricken with pneumonia, the attack finally proving fatal.

Six children, all married, survive him, Mrs. John S. Lee, Mrs. Duvall Cooper, Mrs. James K. Toncray, Mrs. Thomas L. Cooper, Mrs. J. Win Parker and Mr. Lycurgus Owens. Mrs. Parker lives at Lane, Kan., Mrs. Thomas L. Cooper at Pleasant Hill, Mo., and the rest in Mason and Lewis.

Deceased belonged to one of the pioneer families of this section and was respected and esteemed wherever known.

The funeral will occur Thursday at 2 p.m. at Mr. Lee's home, and the remains will be interred in the family burying ground on Mr. Lee's place.

J. H. MEENACH.

'Squire J. H. Meenach, one of the old and esteemed citizens of the eastern part of the county, died Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock at his home on Bull Creek. He was stricken with paralysis last Friday, and was in a critical condition from that on to the end.

Mr. Meenach was about eighty-six years of age. A man of upright character, strong convictions and kindly disposition he was well and favorably known, and enjoyed the respect and esteem of his friends and neighbors. He leaves several children.

The funeral occurs this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the church on Bull Creek. Burial in the Maysville Cemetery.

The Modern Mother.

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant laxative, Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true Kennedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

A PADUCAH wife who conducts a retail grocery business had her husband arrested because he purchased eggs for home consumption after market hours, paying 9 cents per dozen. If he had bought them from his wife he would have had to pay 10 cents per dozen. The case was presented in court, and the Judge promptly fined the economical husband $5 and cost.

R. B. LOVEL,

COWARDLY MURDER.

A Watchman Fatally Shot and His Assailant Locked Up.

ST. LOUIS April 3.—The saloon of Louis Cellar, candidate for the house of delegates, at Twenty-first and Washington avenue, was the scene of a cowardly murder at noon yesterday. George W. Thorn, a watchman employed at the Madison race track, and who lived in this city, was fatally shot by C. A. Day. Thorn was taken to the city hospital, where it was said he could not live more than a few hours. Day was arrested and locked up at the Chestnut street station.

Thorn was in Cellar's saloon, known as "The Place," with some friends, when Day entered. Immediately afterward the shooting began. Day and Thorn each fired several shots, but Thorn missed. Two bullets from Day's pistol entered Thorn's left breast and shoulder and he fell to the floor. Day ran out of the front door, pistol in hand, and went over to the Sickles' Saddlery company's place, across the street, where he stood behind the stone facing of the door. The crowd of Thorn's friends followed and many pistols were drawn.

Day began shooting and emptied his revolver, but he hit no one. The fire was returned, but without result. Day then retreated into Sickles' store, and running upstairs, secreted himself. He remained in hiding until officers arrived and placed him under arrest.

At the scene of the shooting it was impossible to get trustworthy details of the affair. Thomas Taffe claimed to be an eyewitness. He said that Day entered the saloon drunk and looking for trouble.

Concession From Guatemala.

FARIBAULT, Minn., April 3.—Donald Grant, a wealthy contractor of this city, W. H. Fisher, late manager of the Duluth and Winnipeg railroad, and J. A. It is rich in minerals, mahogany, rosewood and dyewood. They also have the right to mine asphalt on a small island near Trinidad. The syndicate will invest a good deal of capital in working the concession, and Mr. Fisher is to be the manager.

A conference has been held between a committee of the strikers and General Manager Wallace of the Cleveland Ship Building company, and a settlement arrived at. It is understood the strikers at that yard will soon return to work. This action will likely result in a settlement of the strike at the Globe ship yards and other plants where the men are out.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

Furnished by the Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company:

Large offerings were again the rule during the week, and crowded some of Thursday's offerings into Friday, not to the disadvantage of the shipper, however, as the soles were fully as good on the last day as on any other. We note no great change in prices from the previous week; low grades continue in abundance, and though prices are of course not high, there is a special value for them, for which companies hold them about where they are for some time at least. Medium wares, if anything, a little stiffer in price, and fine tobaccos sold higher than at any time during the year.

Our market during the last few weeks, more than ever, is again asserting itself as the great burley market of the world, where the shipper may in all times expect the top figures which goods merit, and where the buyers and manufacturers from all parts of the country know they can buy at a good price, and where they can depend on fair samples and fair dealing in every way. By way of comparison, we copy the following from The Tribune:

"There were sold at the Bodmann warehouse yesterday 7 bushels of tobacco, being one-half of a crop from Morris & Reffert, of Bourbon County, Ky., consisting of the usual proportions of leaf, lugs and trash. These 7 bushels brought respectively $15 15, $15 00, $14 75, $15 12 75, $8 75 and $9 25 per hundred pounds, averaging $12 90. The other 14 bushels of tobacco were another grade of immature sales of tobacco on our market but there has been some falling off in quality as compared with last week. The market has remained firm throughout the week for all grades of burley tobacco, the demand continuing keen for the good grades with prices for such grades highly satisfactory to sellers.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco, 1893 crop:

Fresh (dark) or damaged tobacco.... $1 50@2 75

Common color trash..... 3 00@4 3 75

Medium to good color trash..... 3 75@4 5 50

Common lugs not color..... 2 50@4 00

Common color lugs..... 4 00@5 50

Medium to good color lugs..... 5 00@6 50

Common to medium leaf..... 6 00@10 00

Good to fine leaf..... 10 00@15 00

Select to wrapper leaf..... 15 00@18 00
